

2024 ESVONC Congress: Nurse and Technician Call for Presentations

The scientific committee of The European Society of Veterinary Oncology is seeking presentation proposals for the nurse and technician program to be held during the 2024 annual congress from 24th-25th May 2024 in Bucharest, Romania at The Grand Bucharest Hotel.

PRESENTATION OPTIONS:

1. Case report format: Presentation should be 20 minutes in length inclusive of time for audience questions. Content should focus on the nurse/technician's involvement in the management of a case or case series, and should briefly include the case history, diagnostics performed and individual family or patient factors which influenced treatment, so that the audience understands the background. A case summary should reflect on what aspects of management went well, what could have been improved upon and how it shapes approach to future patient care management. Case reports must support recognised clinical practice and be referenced within the presentation.
2. Care tips format: Presentation / practical display should be 15 minutes in length inclusive of time for audience questions. Content should focus on methods which the audience can use themselves to enhance clinical practice, patient care, safety, or efficiency. The topic could be a new or novel method, or one which you have learned/understood more recently and so believe fellow nursing professionals should be aware of. Recommendations must have scientific (evidential) support where appropriate and be referenced in the presentation.

HONORARIUM

- Presenter will receive one complimentary ticket to the ESVONC Gala Dinner at LINEA / CLOSER TO THE MOON in thanks for their presentation,
- An additional 50 Euro will be provided for the provision of notes which will be included with the scientific proceedings by the deadline of 30th April.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION:

A panel of specialist reviewers will score proposals based on concept, relevance and originality. Notification of acceptance or rejection of submitted presentation proposals to the ESVONC Congress Nurse and Technician program will be made by March 15th. If accepted, the presenter will receive a contract, from the ESVONC Secretary listing all terms and will have the opportunity to accept or decline this opportunity.
